

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Heer Logement.—The following names, amongst others, are inscribed upon the walls of a cave called the Heer Logement, near the Oliphants River:—J. J. Rhenius, 20 Sept. 1721; J. P. Grébeler, 24 Sept. 1739; P. Laubster, 1752; F. Le Vaillant, 1783; K. J. Slosbo, 1712; G. A. Warner, J. M. Lourens, 24 Sept. 1739; L. D. Bruys, Caspar Hemery, 1712; J. A. Lospur, 1741; Jacob Brett, 1747, ben ik de kopman al; by de Heer Jacob Cloete.—Dr. Smith's MSS.

Northern Frontier.—On the 14th November, 1827, the Bushmen stole from Mr. F. Kruger, sixteen oxen, and murdered two men. On the 30th of May, 1829, they carried away 51 head of black cattle from the bastards Piet Schalkwyk and Gert Rooyfonteyn shot one horse, killed William Kapok, and wounded a little girl belonging to the first-named individual. The Field-Commandant, with a Commando, went sometime afterwards in search of the plunderers and found them beneath the Taag Pan, with only the horns and portions of the skin of the cattle in question remaining. Upon the approach of the farmers the Bushmen attacked them with great ferocity, whereby it became necessary to defend themselves, and in the action six of their number were wounded. From the position of the plunderers, which was in a thicket, the Commandant was unable to ascertain their loss, but supposes from the various statement made to him that twelve must have been killed.

Field-Commandant Redelinghuys has re-organized a peace with the Bushmen adjoining the Hantam frontier, and states that no depredations have been committed by them for several months past. He has also recommended Klaas Lynx to be recognized by the Colonial Government as the chief of the District in question, and to have the batton indicative thereof granted to him.

On the 15 January, 1830, the Bushmen stole 96 horses from Louw Erasmus and his Sons, residing in the District of Somerset, and six more from John Neukirk, but with the exception of eleven which they killed, the rest were retaken.

On the same day, but in a different district, they murdered Thomas Denhelie, servant to Hermanus Maarsdorp, and carried away 49 goats and 22 sheep. On the 19th following, they robbed some bastards of a number of horses. Between the 6th and 11th of February, they killed eight horses belonging to Karel A. van der Merwe and Isaac Hermanus Visagie. Four of the offenders were captured and the rest escaped.

Execution.—Willem, a Malay, was executed for the Murder of his wife Sana, on the 1st of December, 1829. On no occasion between the period of his condemnation and execution did he evince the slightest fear of death; he ascended the scaffold with great firmness, and met his fate without any evident agitation or apparent regret. He declared to his religious attendant some time before the fatal day, that he was sorry he had never known what it was to experience fear.
