

ERRATUM

In Toposcope 2020, in the article on the Wilmot family, the Editor regrets the error that states the following three settlers travelled on the Brilliant. This should read

“... Joseph and Ann, as well as George (Joseph’s younger brother) who sailed with Sephton’s Party on the Aurora ...”

Left:
The Wilmot family Crest
(photo: Sue Gordon)

The Wilmot Family motto, as included in the coat-of-arms, is Quod vult valde vult. This literally means "what he wants he wants" but its figurative and intended meaning is "determination". Of interest, too, is that the three scallops presented on the shield signify that the family was represented on the Crusades. (Bugs Wilmot)